

BRITISH FLIERS WERE FIRST IN HANDICAP, ALSO

But Cannot Take Both First Prizes Under Air Derby Rules

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 24.—(AP)—An unofficial check indicated today that England's brilliant airmen, C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, finished first in the handicap as well as the speed race in the England-Melbourne derby.

The Dutch entry, which came in today two hours and 42 minutes ahead of the American team of Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, stands an excellent chance however, of getting the handicap first prize of $10,000.

Under the rules for the derby a pilot cannot win prizes in both races, but must choose between them.

Ten hours lost at Albury by K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll, of the Netherlands, probably cost them their chance of beating the Englishmen's time in the handicap event. Had they remained at Charleville or Narromine, checking points, this time would not have been counted against them. All time spent between checking points counts as time in the air.

Americans May Profit
Should Parmentier and Moll get the $10,000 handicap prize, the second prize of $7,500 in the speed race would go to Turner and Pangborn. At any rate the Americans are assured of the $2,500 third prize in the speed race.

It will be some days before official results of the race can be pronounced, since times and "pay loads" must be checked. For windward the speed race Scott and Black get $50,000 and a $2,500 gold cup.

Aviation followers were enthusiastic over the flights of the first three planes in from England and the thrilling race for second place between the Dutch and American pilots, both using American planes. Turner's average speed for the flight was 120 miles an hour.

Made Perfect Landing
The big (Boeing) plane of Turner and Pangborn made a perfect landing at Laverton air field at 1:35 P. M. (10:36 P. M. Tuesday Eastern Standard Time) with Turner at the controls, although so much rain had fallen the field was a quagmire.

Motor trouble slowed the plane's progress across Australia until it had an excellent chance for second place while the Dutch were bogged at Albury, only 160 miles from Melbourne.

A large crowd cheered the Americans and were only held back from the plane by airfield attendants who quickly linked their arms and encircled the plane.

John W. Dye, American Consul, welcomed the fliers and introduced them to the crowd. Turner and Pangborn stood up in the plane and smiled happily, acknowledging the greetings.

Their appearance was in great contrast to that of the well-groomed Dutch pilots. Neither had shaved since they left England Saturday morning. Both appeared tired, despite their cheerfulness.

Advocates Tattooing of U. S. Soldiers

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Every American soldier would be tattooed, under a plan now before the War Department.

As a means of identifying dead and wounded, tattooing is advocated by Lieutenant C. L. Whittle of Fort Ontario, N. Y., in the Infantry Journal, official publication of the Infantry Association. High officers view the idea sympathetically.

Whittle says it was impossible to identify hundreds of killed and wounded in the World War because identification tags then used by the army were missing.

He tentatively suggests the mark be tattooed on each shoulder and each hip.

The marks could be symbols or names, but Whittle believes a number, occupying a small space, would be simplest.

Hospital Patient, Unable to Leave, Granted Divorce

Bellevue, Ill. Oct. 24.—(AP)—Kurt Stingl, Bellevue, a patient at St. John's hospital in Springfield, Ill., was granted a divorce from his second wife, Mrs. Alma Singl, by Circuit Judge D. H. Mudge. Neither Stingl nor his wife appeared in court. Stingl, suffering from tuberculosis, was unable to leave the hospital.

SIX CONVICTS FREED
Springfield, Ill. Oct. 24.—(AP)—Six conditional pardons were granted today by Governor Horner to men sentenced to serve ten years to life for armed robbery.

The pardons were given to Frank Martin, sentenced in Cook county in May, 1927; Harry Smith, convicted in Vermilion county in March, 1927; Glenn Smith, Vermilion county, 1925; William Lightner, Cook, May, 1927; Mineral Davis, Kankakee, May, 1927, and Ted Marsh, Sangamon.

PAL OF 'PRETTY BOY' TO BE TAKEN TO MISSOURI

Richetti to Face Murder Charges in That State

BULLETIN
Wellsville, O., Oct. 24.—(AP)—A letter threatening death for Chief of Police John H. Fultz, and purporting to come from friends of Adam Richetti and the slain gangster, Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, was received by the office today.

Wellsville, Ohio, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Adam Richetti, desperado "pal" of the slain Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, will be turned over to authorities of Columbia, Mo., county prosecutor George Lafferty said today just as soon as the officials there produce the necessary papers to hold the gangster on charges of slaying two officers.

The gangster, captured near here Saturday, two days before Floyd was shot and killed, is now held on Ohio charges of carrying concealed weapons and shooting with intent to kill.

He was taken to the county jail at Lisbon, O., from the Wellsville town jail today under guard of 30 officers armed with rifles and pistols.

In Columbia, Mo., Richetti is wanted for the slaying of Sgt. Ben Booth, of the state highway patrol, and Sheriff Roger Wilson.

Another Outbreak of Strikes Due in Textile Industry

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—A new outbreak of strikes in the textile industry within ten days was predicted today by Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the United Textile Workers, who directed the General strike in September.

Asserting the situation was "extremely critical," Gorman told newspapermen the emergency committee of the United Textile Workers would meet in New York Friday to act on requests for strike sanction from scores of local unions.

Gorman emphasized there was no danger of a new general strike and said the threatened walkouts would be initiated locally against mills which have discriminated against union members in reemployment of workers who participated in the general strike.

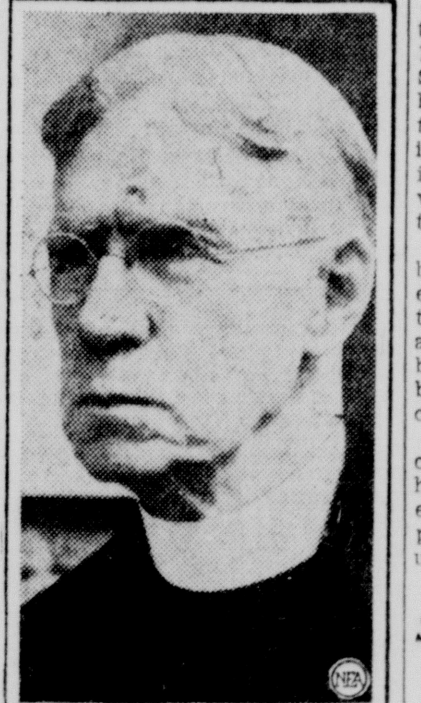

35 Injured Today in Indiana Rail Wreck

Fowler, Ind., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Thirty-five persons were injured, none seriously, early today as seven cars of the Cincinnati night express of the Big Four railroad were derailed a mile south of Earl Park, Ind.

The engine and five cars of the 13-car train passed safely over the east end of the Earl Park switch, but the rear part of the train, including coaches and Pullmans, left the rails, jolted along the ties and several cars turned over.

One car was hurled about with its end extending over U. S. Highway No. 1, an arterial road south of Chicago, blocking motor traffic.

Quits Episcopacy For Priesthood

Formerly a minister in the Protestant Episcopal church, Rev. John Armitage Staunton, above, at the age of 71, was ordained to the Roman Catholic priesthood in Sacred Heart church of Notre Dame University, at South Bend, Ind. Father Staunton was professor of philosophy at Notre Dame until his eyesight failed him a year ago.

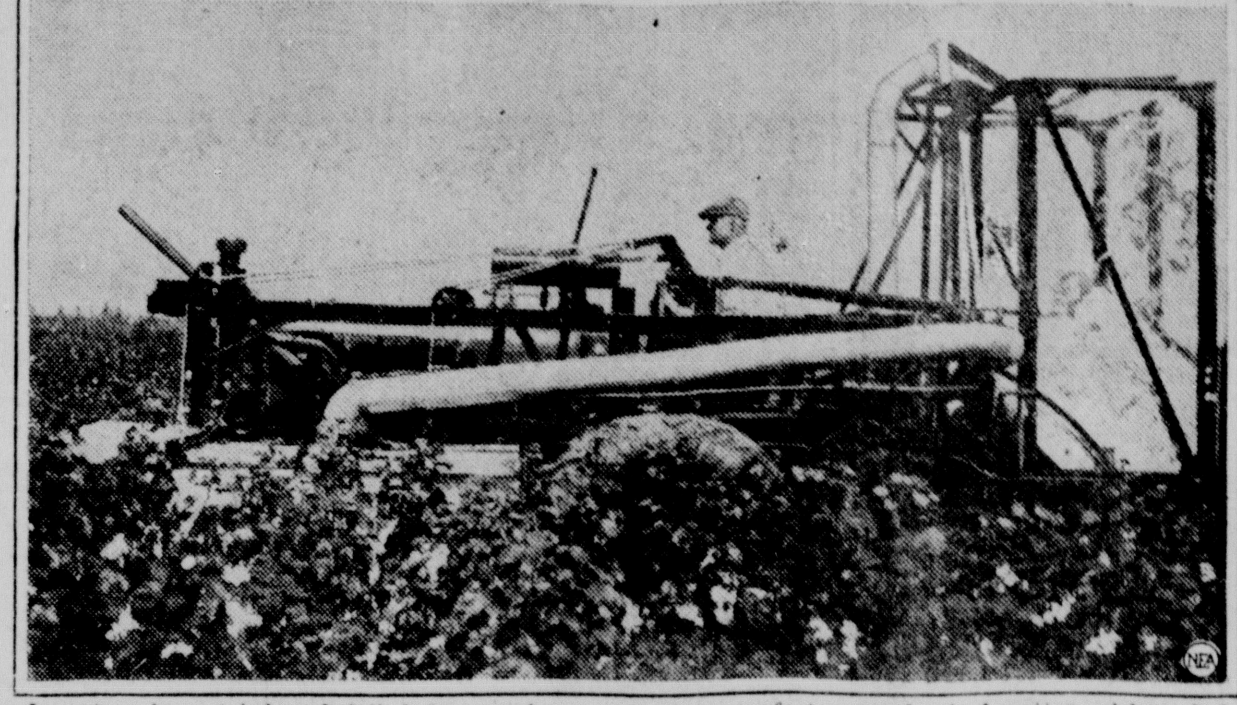

Three Dead, One Missing, Four Badly Injured by Tornado Which Struck CCC Veterans' Camp in Missouri Tuesday

Maryville, Mo., Oct. 24.—(AP)—A toll of three dead, one missing, four critically injured and 12 others severely hurt was counted today as rescue workers surveyed the wreckage left by a tornado that tore through the city, venting its fury on a veterans' conservation corps camp.

Damage to buildings and other property in the city and the camp was placed at about $300,000.

The dead were Guy R. Allen, Shelby, Mo., Ralph E. Hare, Al-

First Successful Cotton Picker, Inventors Claim

Inventors have tried and failed for nearly a century to perfect a mechanical cotton picker, but John and Mack Rust, of Lake Providence, La., declare that the machine shown here in a Blytheville, Ark., field, is the answer to the search. It will pick an acre of cotton an hour, doing the work of 100 laborers, say the brothers. A rapidly rotating smooth steel spindle, moistened as it enters the boll, twists out the cotton without use of hooks or claws and leaves it undamaged, assert the inventors.

INSTRUMENTS OF STRATO FLIGHT TO BE STUDIED

Scientist Expects to Learn Much From Pictures' Efforts

BULLETIN
Cadiz, O., Oct. 24.—(AP)—An injury received by Dr. Jean Piccard when his stratosphere balloon crashed into a tree top near here last yesterday was disclosed today as a physician treated him for a sprained foot.

The scientist withheld information that he was injured in the landing of the huge bag, but today, when he went to a garage where deputy sheriffs guarded his gondola and instruments, he limped noticeably.

Mrs. Piccard displayed numerous scratches on her arms as evidence of the difficulty the scientists had in their landing.

Cadiz, O., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The skydiving Piccards and Lilly the turtle are back on earth.

The first flight by balloon into the stratosphere—a rare atmosphere, being the earth where man needs a mechanical oxygen supply—in which a woman has participated ended without ceremony in a woods near here late yesterday.

Prof. and Mrs. Jean Piccard just plumped to the ground and it was over.

With them was Lilly, the tiny turtle mascot, named Fleur de Lys at birth.

An eight-hour quest for information about the cosmic ray by aid of delicate instruments carried the naturalized Swiss scientist and brother of another stratospherist, August Piccard, from the Fort airport at Dearborn, Mich., across Lake Erie and on to the gently rolling terrain of eastern Ohio.

To Study Instruments
The Piccards reached a probable height of more than ten miles—the exact height awaits calibration of their barograph at Washington—and cruised serenely above a dense blanket of clouds for hours while bright sunlight flashed from their craft.

They might have gone farther, opined Mrs. Piccard as she restored her makeup, but the sun failed to expand their oxygen and the Appalachian mountains were getting uncomfortably close.

Slayer of Highway Patrolman to Seek New Trial in Dec.

Benton, Ill., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Neal McGinley, serving a life term in the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard for the murder of State Highway Patrolman Grady Sutton, at Harrisburg on July 1, 1932, will seek a new trial at the December session of the Illinois Supreme Court. Robert F. Smith, Benton attorney for McGinley announced today.

"Prices have gone down instead of up. There is no more movement of private capital anywhere in the country," he said.

Col. Knox also charged that public confidence had been destroyed to such an extent that the last government bond issue was so poorly subscribed that the government had to purchase 44 per cent of the issue to keep the price up.

"Collapse of the NRA and unwise experimenting of our money stand as a bar to any early recovery. The investor is bewildered and doesn't know what to do with his money," he charged.

Fear Radical Programs
"As a result of the failure of all new deal policies, the country is in danger of having more radical programs placed upon it," he predicted.

"Having completely failed in trying to prime the pump of business with an expenditure of $3,300,000,000 the new dealers are now proposing to appropriate an additional 5,000,000,000 for a public works program."

Seduction of Party Platform by Democrats Charged by Col. Knox in Address at Sterling

Many Lee County Voters in Large Audience Last Evening

Many Lee county Republicans were among the 1,800 voters who jammed the Sterling Coliseum last evening to hear Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, who declared "economic freedom versus a planned economy" to be the real issue of the current campaign.

The question before the voters is whether we want to continue in office those who desire to elect those who favor the economic system which has made us leaders of the world in commerce, business, agriculture, and finance," he declared.

Offering a definition of the proposed new order, Col. Knox compared the suggested program with the feudal system of the middle ages.

In those days when feudal lords ruled, industry was regarded as a privilege to be bestowed at the expense of the rest of society and this is the principle underlying the NRA.

Says Administration Failed
"The old order of economics which we have always had regards business and industry as a service to be rendered to society as a whole," he said.

Three basic objectives of the present Democratic administration—the solution of the farm problem, elimination of unemployment, and establishment of a sound financial structure—have utterly failed, he charged.

"Remedy of the farm situation was found in the restriction of agriculture and the levying of a processing tax on the consuming public. They destroyed wealth to create prosperity! The cost of living has been increased."

Persistence in the farm program will make farmers the servants of the government. "The farms will be directed from Washington. They will be told what to plant. The prices of their crops will be fixed. As yet the brain-trusters have not produced a plan which will cure the ills of agriculture," the Chicago publisher declared.

Referring to the national industrial act, the speaker challenged early predictions of government officials that millions of men would be returned to work under the NRA.

Relief Rolls Grow
"A whole year has transpired since the program was initiated and instead of having more men at work, we are confronted with the statement of an administration spokesman in charge of relief that more unemployed than ever before will be listed on relief rolls during the coming winter," he said.

Expenditures adopted by the administration to relieve the financial situation of the country, including the abolishment of the gold standard, devaluation of the dollar, and enactment of the securities act have failed, he charged.

"Prices have gone down instead of up. There is no more movement of private capital anywhere in the country," he said.

Col. Knox also charged that public confidence had been destroyed to such an extent that the last government bond issue was so poorly subscribed that the government had to purchase 44 per cent of the issue to keep the price up.

"Collapse of the NRA and unwise experimenting of our money stand as a bar to any early recovery. The investor is bewildered and doesn't know what to do with his money," he charged.

by the failure of its policies, it is still determined to continue its course."

TEARDROP TRAIN SPEEDS THROUGH DIXON AT 12:53

Union Pacific Streamlined Equipment Sets Record

Its schedule advanced seven minutes early this morning the Union Pacific streamlined train passed through Dixon at 12:53 this noon, after having traveled the 349 miles through Iowa on the NorthWestern tracks in 353 minutes.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—A stub-nosed streak of steel, the Union Pacific's streamlined six-car train raced toward Chicago today apparently certain of setting numerous records.

Officials claimed for it, as it dashed across the broad stretches between Los Angeles and Chicago, two outstanding marks, one the highest speed ever reached by a passenger train, the other the highest sustained speed for a railroad train over a distance of 500 miles. Other records were for stretches in between.

Between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Omaha, Neb., the flying teardrop was clocked at 120 miles an hour over a two-mile stretch. Over one 11-mile stretch in Wyoming it was checked at an average of 107 miles an hour and for the 508 miles from Cheyenne to Omaha it averaged 84 miles an hour.

The streamlined speedster was due in Chicago at the LaSalle street station at 3:10 P. M., but officials here said they expected to see it back in on track 13—with no regard for superstition—at 3 P. M. It will take on fuel while officials speak.

St. Louis is Voted
Next Legion Meeting

Miami, Fla., Oct. 24.—(AP)—St. Louis was selected today as the 1935 convention city of the American Legion. The convention dates will be set later.

Without discussion or a dissenting vote, the convention today adopted a report of its national defense committee recommending increasing the standing army to 14,000 officers and 165,000 men.

Consolidation of the army, navy, and marine corps air services was opposed in the report.

Construction of an American Navy to full treaty strength was advocated.

The report proposed a national guard strength of 210,000, a reserve officers corps of 120,000 men, and necessary appropriations to provide 30,000 men with reserve corps training during the next fiscal year.

Illinois Supreme Court Decided 26 Cases During Morning

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court, nearing the end of its October term, today handed down opinions in 26 cases, making a total of 71 with another group of decisions to be made public upon adjournment, expected late today.

The court ruled that a war veteran does not have a preferred claim on bonus money deposited in a closed bank.

Upholding the Appellate Court's reversal of the Cook county superior court in the case involving a $400 deposit by Edwin C. Kuhn in the Stony Island State Savings bank, the justices held that a war veteran is an ordinary creditor of a defunct bank, holding no special status.

'Lend More Freely'
Plea to Bankers

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The nation's bankers were asked by the Roosevelt administration today to lend more liberally—even to the extent of making "loans they would not ordinarily wish to make" and "loans that will need to be indulgent."

Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation, organized to save banks and businesses earlier in the depression, made this plea before the American Bankers' Association convention.

Though bankers say they have eager to lend, Jones declared there was "indisputable evidence" they have not done so as freely as they could.

COURTNEY UPHELD
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 24.—(AP)—State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney was upheld in his controversy with the Cook county commissioners and other county officers.

The Illinois Supreme Court ordered the continuance of his suit to prevent the payment of fees to special attorneys.

Tanker, Battered by South Pacific Typhoon, Limp Toward Guam Island; Storm Sweeps Toward Philippines

San Francisco, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Battered by the terrific force of a South Pacific typhoon, the Richmond oil tanker Larry Doherty limped toward a haven at the island of Guam today.

The fate of the vessel and its crew of 40 was uncertain for hours yesterday after the raging storm apparently damaged its radio equipment and silenced frantic distress calls.

Communications were re-established with the tanker late last night and Captain Wilder notified

Stormy Wedding Ends in Divorce

Army Guards Looked On

A stormy courtship, in which she charged she was kidnapped, and a stormy married life of six months, culminated in divorce court, when Marjorie Crawford, Hollywood actress, shown here in tearful mood on the stand, was granted a decree from Danny Dowling, film dance director. She testified that he had threatened her life.

CHICAGO JUDGE HOLDS NRA LAW TO BE INVALID

Judge Lyle Says Law Violation Art. One of Constitution

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—John H. Lyle of municipal court today held that the national industrial recovery act was unconstitutional in suit brought for the recovery of $451 paid as a tax to the government on a dividend declaration.

In making the decision Judge Lyle pointed out that not only federal courts but also state and municipal courts were bound by the constitution of the United States.

Mrs. Genevieve V. Kemp, widow of J. K. Kemp, founder of the Finance Reserve Company, brought the suit. She said she had received only $8,569 from a dividend of $2 a share on 4310 shares of stock she held in the company, and claimed she should have received $9,020.

The difference she said, had gone to pay a 5 per cent tax in accordance with the provisions of section 213 A of the NIRA.

The court held that the NIRA violated article one, section one, of the constitution.

Robbery of Lee Store Sunday Night is Probed

Sheriff George DeKalb county yesterday afternoon telephoned to Sheriff Fred Richardson, stating that the Wrigley store at Lee had been entered Sunday night and robbed.

Sheriff Richardson went to Lee where he met the DeKalb county sheriff to investigate the robbery.

A large glass in the rear of the store had been broken and in this operation one of the thieves is thought to have sustained a bad cut on his hand. Boxes in the store were smeared with blood. A large stock of cigarettes were removed and several second hand watches were taken.

Big Tree Transported Through City Streets

State and city police formed an escort yesterday afternoon for an hour and a half, while a large thorn apple tree was being transported through the streets of Dixon to the Hazelwood estate of Charles R. Walgreen.

The tree, which was purchased by Mr. Walgreen at a farm south of Rochelle, was removed and hauled by truck in an upright position, a distance of more than 60 miles, to be replanted at Hazelwood. In passing through the city it was necessary to use several side streets in an effort to avoid high transmission lines.

Funeral of George E. Cornelius at House Thursday Afternoon

The funeral of the late George E. Cornelius will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence, 210 Crawford Avenue. Rev. Fr. B. Norman Burke, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church will conduct the service and interment will be in Oakwood.

Consolidation of Two Big Telegraph Firms Under Consideration

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Hearings on the advisability of consolidating the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies were ordered today by the Federal Communications Commission for December 3.

The hearings will embrace the advisability of consolidating or merging all telegraph companies.

FLEET RUSHING FROM ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC

Surprise Movement of U. S. Battleships is Under Way

Cristobal, Panama, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The United States fleet is rushing from the Atlantic to the Pacific today in a surprise maneuver.

Without advance notice, the fleet sped into Limon Bay last night in total darkness and then awoke terminal cities with a blaze of lights. A bustle of activity, reminiscent of war-time followed as the passage through the Panama Canal began.

Officers, it was said unofficially, hoped to complete the transit of 86 ships in less than 40 hours, as compared to the Pacific-Atlantic crossing of 110 ships in 47 hours in a spectacular test last April.

Army Guards Looked On
Army guards were placed at all locks to keep the curious away. The mine sweepers Rail and Tern cleared Gatun Lock at 11:00 last night, and a file of 28 destroyers followed them. Other vessels streamed into Limon Bay, leading to the lock.

Light and heavy cruisers followed the destroyers through the lock and battleships began the actual canal transit at daybreak. Aircraft carriers were to follow the battleships. Fog and haze made weather conditions unfavorable.

Other Ships Held Up
All commercial traffic was suspended for the second such attempt in the canal's history. Twelve ships in Pacific terminals and eight in Atlantic were awaiting completion of the maneuver to go through themselves.

All available lock operators and pilots were called to duty. Pilots were being shuttled by special train.

Preparations for the rush delivery were made with secrecy. An official navy announcement said the fleet was due at Guantanamo Oct. 26.

SENATOR LONG MAKES HIT ON SCHOOL CAMPUS

"Loans" Money to Students to Go to Big Football Game

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 24.—(AP)—"Kingfish" Huey P. Long "gave away" thousands of dollars to Louisiana State University students here yesterday and started a mad "gold rush" which continued today.

The senator, turned Santa Claus, made the gesture after he said that no student should miss the L. S. U. vs. Vanderbilt football game in Nashville, Tenn., Saturday because of lack of funds.

He had already made provisions to take the student band of 125 pieces and the entire reserve officers training corps of the school, 1,500 strong, to Nashville "without it costing 'em a dime."

That left out between 2,000 and 3,000 other students, so the "Kingfish" went out to the campus yesterday and said that if any of them didn't have the $6 for a round trip railroad ticket and $1 for meals, he would "loan" it to them if they would see him in private.

Signed For Loans
The gold rush started. The students almost mobbed him then and there as Huey hauled out wads of money and began passing it out to students who signed any name they pleased on the back of laundry slips.

No estimate was available of the amount of money paid out, but at least 500 persons went past Long at the hotel. At $7 a head, that would be $3,500, not counting the $10,000 or more required to pay the expenses of the band and the cadet corps.

The signatures, Long said, constituted I. O. U.'s which he expected the students to pay back in a year.

South Dakota Woman Struck by Auto Here

Mrs. Emma Bergman of White Rock, S. D., who came to Dixon yesterday afternoon with friends from Freeport on a shopping tour, narrowly escaped serious injury when she was struck by an automobile driven by Donald Bush of this city. The accident occurred about 3 o'clock in front of the Kline department store. Mrs. Bergman stepped from the walk into the street directly in front of the car, which was traveling west on First street. She was thrown down and sustained a scalp wound. Taken immediately to the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital, examination revealed no broken bones and it was reported today that she would be able to leave the hospital within a short time.

TOMORROW
From the Spanish of Lope de Vega ORD, what am I, that, with unceasing care, Thou didst seek after me—that Thou didst wait, Wet with unhealthy dews, before my gate?

And pass the gloomy nights of winter there?
O strange delusion—that I did not greet Thy blest approach, and O, to Heaven how lost,
If my ingratitude's unkindly frost Has chilled the bleeding wounds on Thy feet.

How oft my guardian angel gently cried,
"Soul, from thy casement look and thou shalt see How he persists to knock and wait for thee!"
And, O, how often to that voice of sorrow,
"Tomorrow we will open," I replied,
And when the morrow came I answered still—
"Tomorrow."

To Sponsor Charming Tea on Thursday

On the afternoon of Thursday, Oct. 25th, at 3 o'clock, at the home of the Misses Laura and Gracia Rogers, 417 Brinton Ave., the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Episcopal church will sponsor a tea and program, to which the public is invited. A small admission will be charged.

Mrs. Wilson Dysart will sing, and she will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lloyd Davies.
Another delightful feature of the afternoon will be a talk by Miss Anne Eustace, whose charming talks have proven highly entertaining for various organizations in other cities. Miss Eustace's talk, "Living in Light Opera—Holland," is based on usual and humorous experiences in the Netherlands as a visitor, and is based on the real life and customs of the people seen at close range, she having been in Holland on three different occasions. Miss Eustace also visited what is known as "The Islands," on its coast line.

Fall Festival At St. Anne's

The parishioners of St. Anne's church are sponsoring a three evening fall festival on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. In the parish hall, East Morgan St. On Thursday evening the ladies of St. Anne's Guild are serving a chicken supper from 5:30 to 7:30 and during the evening there will be plenty of amusements and games and lots of fun for all.

Friday and Saturday evenings the men of St. Anne's Holy Name Society are sponsoring a dance commencing at 9:00 each evening. On these evenings the parish hall will be opened at 7:30 P. M. that all may come to participate in the amusement and games.

Thursday evening an Elgin watch will be given away, on Friday evening the owner of the Magic Chef gas stove will be announced and on the closing night, Saturday, some one will take home the "Frigidaire" electric refrigerator.

Opposition From Three Sides Plenty

Hollywood, Oct. 24 —(AP)—The marriage plans of Ellen Wilson McAdoo, daughter of United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, and Rafael Lopez De Onate, 36-year-old actor, met with resistance from three sides today.

Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, former wife of McAdoo and a daughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, announced today "there are no marriage plans right now."

In Riverside, where on Monday the 19-year-old Miss McAdoo and De Onate, a native of the Philippine Islands, filed notice of intention to wed, County Clerk D. G. Clayton, said that no marriage license would be issued until De Onate shall have proved himself Caucasian.

William H. Nebbett, law partner of Senator McAdoo, however, declared: "Senator McAdoo has never seen nor met Mr. De Onate, does not approve of the contemplated marriage."

The California civil code forbids intermarriage of Caucasian with Orientals or Malays.
"This question about my ancestry is ridiculous," said De Onate. "I am not a Filipino. I cannot understand why so much fuss should be made, just because Ellen and I are in love."

FELLOWSHIP SUPPER AT METHODIST CHURCH

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Methodist Episcopal church of Dixon are sponsoring a fellowship supper at the church Wednesday, October 31 at 6:30 P. M. This will be a picnic supper and picnic rules will be observed.

The supper will be followed by a program of devotions and special music. Mrs. Herman Fabry, Evanson, will give an address on "Christian Citizenship."

Mrs. Fabry knows her subject subject well, and will bring a store of information. She is one of the outstanding women in Rock River.

HILDEGARDE LASSELL

On the evening of Monday, Nov. 5th, for the benefit of the Dixon Civic Orchestra, or the Philharmonic Orchestra, as it is now known, a recital is to be given by Miss Hildegard Lasell, who in private life is Mrs. J. S. Watson, Jr. The recital will be given in the Methodist church and the ladies of the general Aid Society are selling tickets for it.

Miss Lasell and her accompanist Miss Alma Graye Miller are personal friends of Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Lehman and these gifted artists are donating their talent toward furthering the advancement of good music in Dixon, and a good orchestra.

The concert, no doubt, will bring out a large company of music lovers and following are the names of the patronesses of the affair: Mrs. C. B. Morrison, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Mrs. Z. W. Moss, Mrs. Eustace E. Shaw, Mrs. George B. Shaw, Mrs. Florence White, Mrs. F. X. Newcomer, Mrs. W. C. Durkes, Mrs. John P. Devine, Mrs. Edward W. Valle, Mrs. L. D. Dement, Miss Anna L. Gelsenheimer.

Conference. She gave the address at the Ministerial Conference at Sycamore, on Woman's Day With-in the last few weeks she has had speaking engagements in Indianapolis, Indiana, and at Washington, D. C.

A cordial invitation is not only extended to our church folk but to the community. If you cannot come to supper, come at 7:45, to hear Mrs. Fabry.

Meeting of Chapter AC, III P. E. O. Mon.

Chapter A. C. P. E. O., met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Haeffler, 409 North Dement Avenue. The president, Mrs. John Charters, conducted the business session, and the paper of the afternoon was read by Mrs. A. A. Rowland, her subject being "Cottory College." The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Wilbur Hutchinson.

Miss Farley Is Hostess to Club

Miss Mary Farley entertained the Blue Eagle club last evening at the home of Mrs. Jos. Farley, Miss Mildred Delhot was awarded the favor for high score at bridge and Mrs. Harold won the consolation favor. Delicious refreshments were served. Halloween decorations were very pretty and the colors were also carried out in the menu.

Ort Post and Auxiliary Will Install

The Horace P. Ort Post and Auxiliary will hold their installation ceremonies this evening at 8 o'clock in G. A. R. hall. All members and families are urged to attend.

Women Workers G. O. P. Enjoyed Meetings Here

Were Guests of Chairman H. C. Warner at Lunch Tuesday

Chairman Henry C. Warner, Chairman of the Lee County Central Committee, entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Nachusa Tavern Tuesday, seventy-five Republican women, including the committeewomen of Lee County. A meeting of the 13th District of the Republican Women's Division followed. Mr. Warner proved himself a genial and generous host, and everyone attending enjoyed the tempting luncheon.

Mrs. L. G. Grampp, chairman of the county organization was introduced, as was Mrs. Edyth Thompson of Rock Falls, who is the district chairman.

Mr. Warner presided at the meeting and called the roll, almost all the members being present, and responding. He also gave the program for the remainder of the campaign meetings in the county. A county tour Thursday which all may attend, was stressed.

Congressman Leo E. Allen was to have been present and address the meeting, as a happy surprise, but telegraphed regret at his inability to do so, because of a previous engagement.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, the Republican county candidates were introduced by Mr. Warner, and each one made a short address.

Mr. Warner made clear the duties of the committeewomen and also stressed the importance of their positions. He answered questions and solved several problems for the members. A number of the committeewomen who were called on told of the conditions in their precincts and they also revealed the fact that each one had a comprehensive idea of their duties and responsibilities. In Mr. Warner's talk he related in a most interesting manner facts and situations which bound these women closer to the party. Mrs. Grampp and Mrs. Edyth Thompson both gave short but interesting talks.

There was present at the luncheon Mrs. Andrew Sandgren, director of the Women's Division of the Illinois Young People's Republican League, a young woman, who although having the appearance of a girl, has been eight years in the work. She was introduced and gave the principal address of the afternoon, giving much needed information and stressing the need of personal contact and the manner of approach, in making women "vote conscious." Some women, even in this day and age, are indifferent to the vote and through personal contact and conversation in wise paths many can be made aware of their responsibilities. Mrs. Sandgren told of many experiences and of the unlimited patience which is needed in work of this kind. Her talk was thoroughly enjoyed and all felt it was all too short when she had finished.

Those present at the meeting included Alto, Miss Marjorie Thompson, Steward.

Remarkable Formula Helps To Prevent Colds—Samples Free at Local Drug Stores

Tested in Clinics by Practicing Physicians, and Proved in Everyday Home Use, Vicks Vapo-r-nol Helps Millions in Avoiding Many Colds

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE
Also Contains Other Medications Used in Vicks Plan for Better Colds-Control

FOLDER EXPLAINS PLAN

Every family in Dixon interested in having fewer colds has a chance now to get acquainted with the unique aid in preventing colds—Vicks Vapo-r-nol.

Va-tra-nol is especially designed for the nose and throat—where most colds start. It aids and stimulates the functions provided by Nature—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off colds in their early stages.

Va-tra-nol is easy and convenient to use—any time or place—at home or at work. Just a few drops up each nostril—at the first sign of discomfort in the nose—irritation or dryness, sniffle or sneeze.

Used in time, it helps to avoid many a cold entirely.

Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head cold or nasal catarrh) Va-tra-nol penetrates deep into the nasal passages, reduces swollen membranes—clears away clogging mucus—brings comforting relief.

GANGSTERISM DEPENDS ON CORRUPT POLITICS

It is reported in Washington that federal agents who investigated the famous Kansas City Union Station "massacre" have uncovered a startling tie-up between gangsters and politicians in that city.

They have found so much evidence, it is said, that a federal grand jury is to be impanelled to hear all about it.

Now the only really surprising thing about this is the fact that such a disclosure should come as a surprise. As a general rule, you may take it for granted that when any city is plagued by gangsters, those gangsters have some kind of understanding with someone in the city's political life.

This does not refer to Kansas City alone, nor does it refer to any particular group in Kansas City's politics. It is simply an axiom of modern American life; and the way we persistently shut our eyes to it is the chief reason we continue to have gangs.

There is nothing mysterious about modern gangs.
They aren't such excessively secret organizations that honest, efficient, and unhampered police forces cannot cope with them. The cops almost invariably have a pretty fair idea who runs them, how they operate, what they do, and when and why they do it. And any city government that honestly wants to do so can usually drive them out of business in short order.

This is a statement that needs to be made over and over again. Gangsterism is part of the price we pay for rotten municipal politics. This is truer now than ever before, since repeal has knocked out public support of the underworld's chief source of revenue.

To be sure, it remains perfectly true that the roots of American crime go deep in the social fabric. Slums have a part in it, and faulty legal machinery helps it to sprout.

Our emphasis on money as the sole yardstick to be used in measuring a man's success or failure is a big factor.
Our diversified population, the absence of a unifying national tradition, the lawless temper of the land generally —all these help gangsterism grow.

But in the last analysis the city gang is the product of political corruption. No one need be surprised to hear that this or that city is afflicted by a gangster-politician alliance. If the gangsters are present, such alliance may be taken for granted.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

What piece of furniture would you guess had the largest advance to its credit from June, 1933, to June, 1934?
It's the swivel chair.

You might not have guessed it, but you readily may understand it.

The discovery was made by an economist doing research work that involved statistics gathered by the department of labor.

The furniture group index ascended from 73.4 to 79.
The swivel chair business zoomed from 71.9 to 93.5.

Now who do you suppose is doing all the buying of swivel chairs?

It isn't the newspaper.

The American motion picture industry is destroying the good name of America in the Far East, where censorship is not effective.—Bishop Herbert Logan Roots of Hankow, China.

My trouble was that I was a piker. I should have sided with the big fellows. Then I would have become a big man instead of what I am.—Charles Ponzi, deported swindler.

The suggestion that the bureaucrats of Washington have saved us from revolution belittles the common sense of the American people.—Col. Henry Breckinridge, candidate for U. S. Senate from New York.

Our average present-day automobile appears to

What the News Was Around Dixon in Years Gone By

50 YEARS AGO

The residence of L. C. Henderson on the farm formerly owned by Benjamin Kessler located about one mile from Nachusa, was destroyed by fire early this morning.
The fire originated in the cook room probably from a defective pipe. The loss is about $2,500 and no insurance. Considerable of the furniture was saved but much of the best clothing of the family was destroyed.

Frederick R. Dutcher died at his home near Amboy. Mr. Dutcher was one of the early settlers of Lee county and was at first a resident of Dixon. He was a man of great energy and at one time was one of the leading business men of this section of the state.

Palmer Atkins, A. E. Simonson and H. A. Harden went to Springfield on the excursion this morning.

25 YEARS AGO

Timothy Coakley, local blacksmith, is believed to have suicided at his home, 422 East River street today, by swallowing the contents of a bottle of laudanum.

A buggy belonging to George Ream was demolished when the horse ran away on Second street.
The owner lost two valuable robes and the horse after breaking loose when the buggy struck a light pole, continued to run to the city limits,
where it was caught.

Dr. J. B. Werren of Grand Detour now occupies the suite of rooms vacated by Dr. G. W. I.
Brown, over the Petersberger store.

10 YEARS AGO

A pavement dance marked the official opening of the new cement paving on Peoria avenue from Tenth street south to the city limits.

Chester Barriage won the pinochle championship in the annual tournament at the Elks club.

Daily Health Talk

EXERCISE FOR THE HEART PATIENT

The doctor who has to inform his patient of a defective heart usually finds himself in a difficult position. He needs to impress upon his patient the meaning of a defective heart, and he must do it in such a fashion as not to alarm or emotionally cripple his patient.

In the younger patient, the problem is one of teaching him to keep within the limits of his cardiac capacity. In the older patient, it is more commonly a matter of keeping him from resigning all but the unavoidable physical exertions.

To this question of to what extent does the heart patient need to renounce physical exercise, Professor Unverricht of Berlin has recently made an assuring contribution. Prefacing his essay with a statement to the effect that each individual patient must be considered separately, he warns against inducing within the heart sufferer a feeling of complete physical inferiority. He advises that the heart patient be carefully tested to determine the permissible physical activities. Within these limits the patient should be encouraged to exert himself so that he may be physically strengthened and that he may learn to enjoy once more the pleasure of living.

Dr. Unverricht cites his experiences in which, using the greatest caution, he permitted patients first to perform passive movements, then to participate in active gymnastic exercises. Some he allowed to engage in running, swimming, skating and paddling.

In watching his patients, he particularly looked for such evidences of excessive strain as disturbed sleep, loss of appetite, mental depression, fatigue and irritability.
If any of these appeared, he promptly reduced the amount of exertion permitted and for a time placed the patient under compensatory rest.

Professor Unverricht is of the opinion that for the heart patient supervised physical exercise under proper medical care is most beneficial.

Catholic Church Facing Elimination as a Factor of Life in All of Mexico

Five States of Republic Now Without Any Kind of Church

Mexico, D. F., Oct. 24.—(AP)—A few armed soldiers patrolling in front of schools in the Capital presented the only visible evidence today that momentous changes are underway throughout Mexico.

Within a short time the Catholic church as an institution may be completely eliminated, for the present at least.

The national revolutionary (government) party is still withholding action on a proposal to exile all archbishops and bishops from Mexico, but the anti-church sentiment which first broke out in 1857 and reached high intensity in 1915 and again in 1926 under General Plutarco Elias Calles is being put into concrete form in many states where churches have been closed and priests expelled.

Without Churches
The states of Sonora, Tlaxcala, Chiapas, Colima and Guerrero, five of 28, are entirely without churches. Bishops and priests have been given 72 hours in which to leave Guerrero. A similar action was taken by the state of Mexico, but was later reconsidered and a definite decision was postponed.

Catholics as yet have made no unified protest against the government's acts.

A prominent Catholic said he believed even if all churches are closed and priests expelled "Catholicism will continue to be the religion of a large majority of Mexicans and the various functions of the priests will be carried on, surreptitiously if necessary."

Agitation against the reform of Article Three of the Constitution providing compulsory socialist education, which resulted in charges by President Abelardo Rodriguez that Catholics were inciting students to acts of rebellion and brought the church question again to the fore, has mostly died down, but soldiers are guarding schools as a precaution against possible attacks by small groups of students who continue on strike.

There being no other services in town Sunday evening this splendid play should be greeted by a full house. The play will be given at the time of the regular church service and is free to all. The author of the play is the wife of Rev. Paul Studebaker, the new pastor for the local church of the Brethren.

Living Our Everyday Lives

COMMUNISM

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
Havelock Ellis, one of the wisest and gentlest minds of our generation, has coined this huge, ugly word to describe the wild and fatal fanaticisms which threaten the world today.

Truly the day in which we live is terrific and no one can foresee what tomorrow will be. Swift, dramatic events follow one another in another in an appalling sequence; each day a series of explosions.

Torn by hatred, tormented by fear, men grow hysterical in speech and act, looking to the future with horror. They talk impetuously of humanity, and still more impatiently and angrily of God.

"Where is God?" asks an English editor. "Where is there any purpose in things? Here we are talking about another war, as though we had seen nothing, suffered nothing. We have seen humanity drenched in tragedy, and the end is not yet. Is God dead?"

Karl Barth, the greatest preacher in Germany, says that God has forsaken man "for a little moment," in the words of Isaiah, and that a moment with God may mean a century with men. "The presence of the absence of God is awesome," he adds impressively.

But if the history of the world is the judgment of the world, as Schiller said, God is indeed here. Surely, if this is a moral universe, if God is on the throne, then we live in a day of judgment, in which man in his wilful vanity must reckon with reality.

It may be that all our warring ideals of state and life will resolve into two camps—the Soviet and the Fascist; and the conflict of those two will be bitter and to death. If so, it means the loss of most of what we have believed healthy and holy.

If that is to be our fate, it will not be the first time that a whole civilization has failed and fallen. Others have withered into tired dust and ashes for justice, goodwill, and wisdom.

In short, if man will not walk the way of God through righteousness to peace, he will be allowed to go his own way to destruction.

JOSEPH STEVENS

Joseph Stevens, resident of Natchua township, son of Parker and Betsy Tweed Stevens, passed away Thursday morning at his home at the age of 80 years. He is survived by three children, Mrs. Sylvia Morris of Franklin Grove, Leonard Stevens who resides on the old homestead in Ogle county, and Mrs. Maude Henry of Teal's Corners. Seven grandchildren, one brother and one sister also survive.

Wesley A. Senneff was born in Somerset Co., Pa., on Sept. 26, 1853 and passed out of this life on Oct. 13, 1934, at the home of his son, Herman Senneff, making his sojourn on earth 81 years and 17 days. A long journey filled with joy and disappointment, but, walking with God, he kept the end in view. As a young child he came west with his parents in the year 1853 and they settled on a farm in Lee county, Illinois making him one of the pioneer settlers of the state. schools and churches, and sought to educate their children and build Christian character, the foundation of every real home.

Mr. Senneff's father died when Wesley was a mere lad of eleven years, which left the care and responsibility resting upon the mother for the rearing and care of the boy; but she, like many mothers, performed her duty well and faithfully reared these children of God.

After the death of the father, the mother and the three sons moved to Fairhaven township in Carroll county. Here at the age of 16 Mr. Senneff gave his heart to God and united with the Evangelical church to Fairhaven township in Carroll member of the church and lived a devoted, consecrated, Christian life. He kept the faith in his God, and in Christ, as his Saviour, to his dying hour. It can truly be said that he was faithful to his church, his home, and his God. His greatest interest and concern in life were his children. They meant everything to him.

On March 10, 1881 he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Conrady, and they started housekeeping on a farm in York township. Here their children were born and they made their home until Mrs. Senneff passed away on Nov. 22, 1913. After this he made his home with his son Ralph for a time but this home was soon broken by the death of the son, Sept. 19, 1914. He then went to live with his son, Herman, in the old home, and in Dixon with his daughter, Mrs. Edith Williams. He also lived in Rio, Ill., returning in 1929 to Thomson where he resided until the last few weeks of his life when he went to the home of his son Herman on the old homestead, from whence he went to his eternal home.

Besides the two children who survive him are seven grandchildren, one great grandchild, and two brothers, William of Milledgeville and Alvin of White Hall, Wis.

Lights for Sailboats

The following lights are required for sailboats in all weather, visible from sunset to sunrise: A red light on the left or port side, visible from right ahead to two points abaft the beam; a green light on the right or starboard side, visible from right ahead to two points abaft the beam; a white light forward, visible over 10 points of the compass on each side. Rules regulating side lights are to be complied with when the vessel is under way only and not otherwise. When at anchor show a white light visible all around the horizon. A vessel being overtaken by another should show a white light astern, visible over 12 points of the compass aft.

LONG TRIPS FOR TENNIS PLAYERS NOW FORBIDDEN

Head U.S. L. T. Assn. Turns Down Bids to Send Stars Away

New York, Oct. 24—(AP)—So long as Walter Merrill Hall, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, has anything to say about it, there won't be any more mid-winter junkets on padded expense accounts for the American players.

Hall received invitations to send players to Melbourne, Australia, where a centenary celebration is being held, South Africa and South America, but the bids were turned down.

The association's president was one of the active sponsors of the law adopted at last summer's meeting of the International Tennis Federation, specifying as follows: "except when officially selected or authorized by tennis association, no player can accept living or traveling expenses for more than eight weeks during a year." The object of the rule was to curb the practice of players living in the sport. The way to accomplish both is to put an end to long tours, Hall said.

IMPORTANCE OF VOTING ON BOND ISSUE STRESSED

Co. Clerk Dimick Has Sent Notices to All Election Officers

Instructions to judges of election in the various precincts of Lee county, pertaining to the importance of casting ballots on the proposed $30,000,000 emergency relief bond issue proposal, were mailed out by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick this week. The instructions are of interest to voters as well as election board officials and are as follows:

Because of the vital importance to the taxpayers of the pending state $30,000,000 emergency relief bond issue which to carry must receive not merely a majority of the "Yes" and "No" votes but also a majority of the votes cast for the members of the General Assembly, I am therefore calling attention to the following basic facts:

(1) The proposal will appear upon a separate ballot marked "Emergency Relief Bond."

(2) The attention of each voter should be drawn specifically to this ballot as well as to each other ballot which may be handed to him.

(3) Each voter should be required to return his emergency relief ballot properly folded to the Judge of Election for deposit in the ballot box. No voter should be allowed to leave this ballot in the voting booth or to carry it away with him.

WRESTLING FANS TO SEE A GREAT SHOW THIS EVE

Rockford Card Draws Number of Dixon Followers

Rockford, Oct. 24—Abe Coleman, New York's claimant to the Jewish wrestling championship of the world, invades northern Illinois this week to display his famous "kangaroo kick" in the all-heavyweight mat show at the Rockford Coliseum tonight.

Colman invented his kicking style following a tour of Australia two years ago. He's tried it on most of the leading grapplers of the United States with exceptional success. Although unable to fool such contenders as Ed Don George and Jim McMillen in St. Louis and Chicago last week, Colman has floored such standouts as Rudy Dusek and Gino Garibaldi since the opening of the fall campaign. In his first Rockford appearance, Colman will oppose Hans Bauer of Germany in the semi-windup of Promoter Lee Darst's fourth autumn show. The windup will bring together Ole Olson of Milwaukee and Whitey Hewitt of Memphis.

The complete card, starting at 8:30 P. M.:

Ole Olson (225) Milwaukee, vs. Whitey Hewitt (220) Memphis, 90-minute time limit.

Abe Coleman (205) New York vs. Hans Butler (216) Germany.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRICK

BEGIN HERE TODAY
When DAN BLEEKER, publisher of The Blade, learns that CHARLES MORDEN, police reporter, has been mysteriously killed he employs SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, who had threatened to sue The Blade because the newspaper reported Cathay had been arrested. The man arrested was an impostor giving the name of Cathay and accompanied by a girl called HARRY BRIGGS.

Soon after Morden is found dead comes news that Cathay is dead—possibly poisoned.
Morden's fingerprints are found in the apartment of a girl named ALICE LORTON who has reported the disappearance of her roommate, ESTHER ORDWAY. Griff and Bleeker visit Alice Lorton and question her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

SIDNEY GRIFF started pacing the floor. Bleeker watched him with frowning speculation. Alice Lorton's blue eyes were fastened upon him with wide candor, the candor with which a young patient regards a skilled physician who has come to minister to his suffering—an expression of blind faith which bordered upon devotion.

"How about magazines?" Griff asked suddenly, sweeping his hand in an inclusive gesture toward the magazines on the table. "These weren't purchased at news stands, were they?"

Alice Lorton shook her head. Griff picked several up, looked at the back pages.

"They were all Esthers," the girl said. "She subscribed to them. Some of them came in wrappers. Some of them had her name stamped on the covers."

"You don't know anything about her family?"

"No."

"Know whether she'd been married or not?"

"I don't think she had. She didn't have much use for men."

"That might indicate she'd been married and separated."

"Yes, it might, but she seemed sort of... well... unsophisticated. If you know what I mean."

"Humph!" Griff said skeptically. "How often did she ask you to leave when she had men friends coming?"

"Not very often—just once or twice a month perhaps."

"What did she do with her evenings?"

"She read."

"Didn't go out?"

"No, she was a shy, retiring girl in many ways. Esther was always a mystery to me. She had quite a bit of mail come in, and she wrote quite a few letters. But that seemed to be about the only social contact she had. She loved to read. She was very much inclined to curl up on the couch and spend the evening there reading."

"What did she do the evenings when you had your boy friends come to see you?" Griff asked.

"SHE went out to picture shows. I think, although she didn't care much for them."

"She came home late?"

"Yes, quite late."

"Did you tell her what time to come home?"

"No, I just used to tell her that I would have a boy friend in for the evening."

"How often did you have your friends here?"

"Not very often—not as often as she did. You see, I don't know many boys."

"You're working?"

"No, I haven't been for some time."

"You're here quite a bit then during the daytime?"

"Sometimes, yes."

"And Esther Ordway was here quite a bit during the daytime?"

"No," Alice Lorton said, "that's the funny thing about her. She used to get up early, before anyone was stirring. She got up at 6 o'clock in the morning and always left the apartment by quarter to 7, sometimes earlier. She was gone all day, invariably. I don't know where she went or what she did."

"But you don't think she was working?"

Alice Lorton lowered her eyes. "I don't know," she said.

Griff looked over at Bleeker.

"I think," he said, "this is about all we can find out here."

In the hallway Griff turned to Bleeker.

"Has it impressed you," he said, "how closely the description of this missing girl checks with the description Morden gave of the girl who claimed to be the hitch-hiker? The one who gave the name of Mary Briggs, and who was riding in the car with the man who had been using the name of Frank Cathay?"

"You going to have your men shadow the apartment?" he asked.

Bleeker nodded.

"I'm going to play ball with you, Griff," he said. "There are times when I think your methods are wild, and then I see them check out, and they seem perfectly logical. There's something uncanny about the way you get to the heart of a situation."

"We had a little luck on that girl business," Griff said dreamily, "but there's something else we're overlooking—something that's a key point, something that's been reported to us and the significance of which we haven't appreciated."

"Don't you think that always happens in a criminal investigation?" Bleeker asked.

"Not always," Griff said. "You've got several things to do, things that are more or less matters of routine. And then you've got one thing to do that may make trouble."

"What's that?" Bleeker asked.

"I'll tell you the routine things first. You've got to try and find what bank Esther Ordway carried an account in. You've got to get in touch with the Lippman Realty Co. and find out what they know about her. You've got to have men watch the apartment. You've got to try and locate Mrs. Blanche Malone before Carl Racine locates her. But, in order to be certain, you've got to keep a man tagging Racine."

"What would Mrs. Malone have to do with the case?" Bleeker asked.

"We seem to have located the woman in the case."

Griff shook his head.

"You can never tell," he said, "until the cards are all on the table. You've got to get all the pieces of a jig-saw puzzle before you can put the thing together and have it make sense. I think Mrs. Cathay employed Racine to locate Mrs. Blanche Malone. At any rate, she's connected with the case in some way."

"Now here's something you've got to do that may make trouble. You've got to get some young woman in whom you have confidence. She should go to an apartment and take the apartment under the name of Esther Ordway. Then she should go to the postoffice and leave a forwarding address, forwarding the mail of Esther Ordway from the Elite Apartments at 319 Robinson street to this apartment where the woman is living."

"That's going to get us into trouble with the postal authorities," Bleeker objected.

"It won't if they don't find out about it," Griff remarked.

"But they'll be bound to find out about it."

"I'm not so certain."

"But why go to all that trouble to read the woman's mail? Who ever is mixed up in the case with her, or knows she's mixed up in the case, knows that she's disappeared. You can't make me believe that she was spirited away. I think she deliberately stepped out of the picture and I'm willing to bet two to one that we find where she took an airplane."

Griff shook his head.

"I've got a theory about Esther Ordway," he said. "So far I haven't got enough data on the subject to back up the theory, but I want to get some additional facts just as rapidly as possible. In the meantime, you can have your men cover the outgoing airplanes if you want to, but if you make a bet, you're very likely to lose it."

In the next installment a hotel register yields information about the man who impersonated Frank Cathay.

REPUBLICANS IN FINAL DRIVE TO AROUSE VOTERS

Many Meetings to be Held in Lee County in Next Fortnight

Heartened by the enthusiastic support accorded the entire slate of Republican nominees for county and state officers Lee county G. O. P. leaders will wind-up one of the most active campaigns ever conducted in Lee county with a series of rallies, under the leadership of Chairman Henry C. Warner of Dixon, in various communities during the next two weeks.

Former Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom will head a list of party leaders who will speak at a rally at Rosecrans Hall in Ashton on Friday evening at 7:45 P. M. A dinner will precede the speaking program in the parlors of the Ashton Methodist Episcopal church.

Meetings in Dixon
Mr. Carlstrom and Attorney J. J. Ludens of Sterling will address a rally in the circuit courtroom at the courthouse in Dixon at 8 the same evening. The entire list of county and district nominees including Mayor George C. Dixon, candidate for state senator, Representative Dennis Collins of DeKalb and Henry Allen of Lyndon, candidates for re-election; County Judge William L. Leach and County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller, both of whom are seeking reelection; County Treasurer Sterling D. Schrock, nominee for county clerk; Walter Ortgiesen, county treasurer nominee, and Ward T. Miller, sheriff candidate, will be present at both rallies.

The final week of the campaign will be opened with a public dinner at the First Methodist Episcopal church here Monday evening under the auspices of the Lee County Young Republicans' organization. Circuit Judge William J. Fulton of Sycamore, well-known Illinois jurist, will be the principal speaker.

To Tour County
A tour of the entire county will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 31st, concluding with a supper and rally at the Sugar Grove church in Palmyra township at 6:00 P. M. Able speakers from the state headquarters will accompany the trip with a sound bus which will be a unique feature of the tour.

Schedule for the tour has been announced as follows:

9:00 A. M.—Franklin Grove.

10:00 A. M.—Ashton.

11:30 A. M.—Steward.

1:00 P. M.—Lee

2:00 P. M.—Paw Paw.

2:30 P. M.—Compton.

DR. POOL TELLS OF SPORTS LIFE IN MIKADO-LAND

Chicago Sports Writer Quotes Letter From Compton Doctor

Leo Fischer, sports writer on the Chicago American staff recently had the following in his "Sidelines" column:

Did you know that the left side of a fish is more potent in developing athletic skill than any other portion? Neither did we, until we received an interesting letter from one of Sidelines' foreign scouts, Dr. C. G. Pool of Compton, Ill. Dr. Pool, who has been a prominent figure in athletic circles for many years, has just finished another trip through the Orient.

To get our minds off the football situation for the time being, we will devote today's space to Dr. Pool's letter, for which we extend our sincere thanks. We'd like to hear more from him.

FISHES THIRD TRIP—Three trips through Japan from Niko to Nakasaki, (the writer) one in Winter and two in Summer, all within nineteen months, has proved to me that Japan is taking up track and field athletics with the same spirit she grasped baseball thirty years ago. I have watched them develop from a nation without points in the Olympic games to a possible runner-up in 1940.

In 1933, Dr. Cato of the Tokio health department, whose article on gall stones formation has been published in the German medical literature, explained to me how he was advising the Japanese athletes to use more meat, and particularly the left side of the fish. He showed his records of work produced by dogs on treadmills, fed on the left side of the fish. He explained it by saying that those muscles were used more because the fish swims to the left.

"SPIRIT WILL WIN"—"Japan feels that when the time comes to select men to represent her at the next set of world games, that the spirit of Nippon will bring interest, even into their remote rural villages. I have seen 8 and 10-year-old boys practicing the 400 yip and jump on the roof gardens of the department stores while their mothers were trading below. Every grade school playground has a well-equipped field.

"Girls' athletics has not centered on aquatic sports alone. Mrs. Nambu, wife of the world's record-holder in the running broad jump, is now in Italy with the woman's swimming team. She is also a sports writer on Osaka's (an industrial city of two million) largest paper.

"Japanese children are taught to wear American style shoes and clothes while their mothers retain the kimono. With the weight of the body shifted to the ball of the foot, better watch out for them in the 400 and 800 meters when they grow up.

"TRY FOR 40 MEET"—"The Japanese now have a representative in Europe, who will try to bring the Olympic games to Japan in 1940. They consider Italy their closest bidder. Those interested in track told me that they expect to accomplish in five years what it took us twenty years, in the same way that Japan has won industrially.

"One Japanese sports writer told me athletics was a national theme, because it had to do with their relations with other nations, thus permitting their patriotism to show itself, which in turn is a part of Nipponese religion. They have heard of the disintegration of our national basketball and track meets for high school athletes and they figure we are slipping. (Dr. Whitten, please note.)

??? DO YOU ??? REMEMBER

One Year Ago Today—The Equipoise-Winooka match race was called off, due to failure of owners of the two horses to come to an agreement on the division of the purse.

Five Years Ago Today—The Oakland Club of the Pacific Coast Baseball League was sold for $500,000 to A. R. Miller and Victor Devincenzi.

Ten Years Ago Today—Bennett Hill of New York established a new automobile speed record when he turned in 126.4 miles an hour around the Charlotte oval.

Cost of Engraving Stamps
The Post Office department says: "The cost of engraving a new postage stamp is from $300 to $500, depending on the size of the stamp and the amount of detail work. However, the department is reimbursed many times for this expense through the sale of the new stamp to collectors. Therefore, every new stamp issued is a source of profitable revenue to the government."

ILLINOIS FACES ITS WORST JINX COMING SATURDAY

No Illini Team Has Defeated Wolves At Ann Arbor in 14 Years

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 24.—(AP)—A 36-year-old history, with a distinct maize and blue tinge, sets the background for an intense Illinois-Michigan football rivalry which will be renewed at Ann Arbor Saturday. Since 1898 the Illini and Wolverines have engaged in 18 grid battles, and in no less than 13 of these games Michigan has been returned victor. Further, Michigan is the only long standing rival of Illinois that can boast a victory advantage over the Illini since Bob Zuppke came into power as head coach. Since 1919 when the present series was inaugurated after a lapse of 13 years, the Wolverines have won nine games to Illinois five.

A jinx element seems to have attached itself to Illinois teams playing at Ann Arbor for no Illini team since 1920 has been able to subdue the Wolves at Michigan. Any element of overconfidence that Zuppke's charges tend to display this year is quickly silenced by mention of the 1926 game at Ann Arbor when Michigan, after losing four consecutive games, administered the only defeat of the season to the Illinois team that went on to win the Western Conference title, 3 to 0. The statistics show that Michigan, in 18 games played, has scored 240 points to 127 for Illinois. The 35 to 0 trouncing that the Wolverines administered in 1931 stands as the worst defeat that a Zuppke coached team has ever suffered.

COLLEGE PRESS AGENTS SUFFER MOST IN DEFEAT

Their Mental Anguish Exceeds That of the Coach or Players

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Who suffers the most mental anguish when the proud old university's football team takes it on the chin Saturday after Saturday? The coach? His wife? The team captain or students, who waver and lose the last dollar of their allowances? All wrong!

It's the weary university athletic press agent. There's a man who really suffers when the team is riding the rocks. Take the Big Ten conference for instance. For many autumns, the gloomiest man in all Big Ten circles was Bill Morgenstern of Chicago. When Chicago felt its way along the conference bottoms, Bill was a confirmed pessimist who figured Chicago surely would tumble on its own one yard line. His copy was searched in vain for superlatives unless it told about the Maroon gym or tennis team. Today, it's different, the Maroons are winning and Bill is smiling, and his copy sparkles.

Tobin Smiles Again
Mike Tobin of Illinois wrote himself out during Red Grange's touchdown era, fired unheard of superlatives at the unsuspecting sports writer. Then came the Illinois football depression. Mike slumped and took each defeat harder than Coach Bob Zuppke himself. Now the Illini are marching to victory again, and Mike is rising to the occasion.

Probably the saddest press agent of them all in the Big Ten today is Walter Paulson of Northwestern. The Wildcats are losing and Paulson is in great mental anguish.

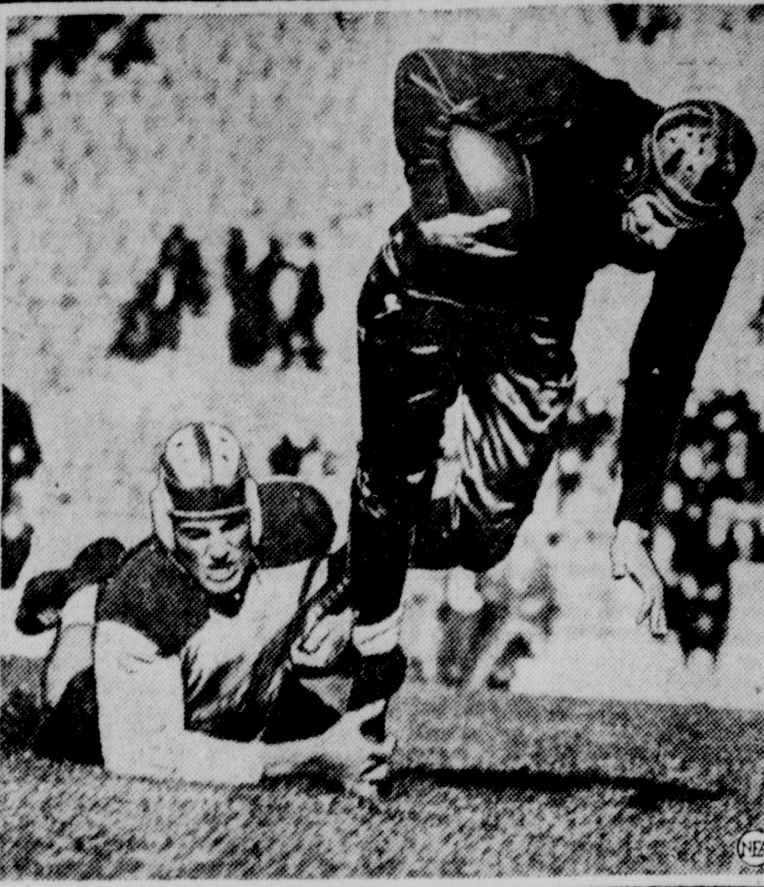

Bob Woodworth of Purdue looked as though he had lost his best friend as he watched the Boilermakers lose their second in a row at Notre Dame. As the Boilermakers beat Wisconsin for their first

TOEHOLD NEW TACKLE

The grunt and groan boys of the mat haven't any monopoly on the toehold made famous by Frank Gotch. Down in Texas they use it on the gridiron, too, as a Longhorn tackler illustrates here, nailing Mike Layden, brother of the Notre Dame coach, just as the Irish gridders thought he was off for a touchdown.

PHILIP WRIGLEY NEW PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO CUBS

Buys Out William Murray Walker to Take Over Full Control

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—William Murray Walker, who recently told baseball writers there would be some "startling changes" in the Chicago Cub lineup next season, found himself today to be Chance No. 1.

Either by choice, request, or both, Walker resigned the presidency of the club yesterday after selling his 1,274 shares of stock to Philip K. Wrigley, who announced that he would take over the presidency and run the club along his own ideas.

Wrigley, who didn't take much of an interest in baseball until the victory he smiled his first smile of the season.

When Notre Dame lost its first game of the season at home for the first time in almost half a century, Joe Petrizz wasted away to shadow.

ELKS HONORED 86 'VETERANS' LAST EVENING

"Quarter Century" Members Special Guests at Fine Banquet

The Quarter Century banquet and program for members of Dixon lodge of Elks who have been affiliated with the lodge for a period of 25 years of longer, held at the club house last evening, was an enjoyable event. Of the 86 members ranking as "quarter century" Elks more than 50 were present and surrounded a special table reserved for them. In addition there were four charter members of the lodge present. Lee Read, Joseph W. Staples, Amos Bosworth and Dr. F. E. Morris.

At 6:30 the banquet was served and this was followed by a short but highly interesting program. Exalted Ruler Elmer C. Jones spoke briefly and then named Charles E. Miller, P. E. R., as toastmaster of the evening. He in turn talked for the quarter century members. County Judge William L. Leech, a member of the Dixon lodge for a period of 27 years, told some amusing incidents and he was followed by Ed Vaile, H. C. Warner, P. E. R., outlined the important accomplishments and the program of Elksdom and in conclusion presented the toastmaster, Charles E. Miller, with a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums honoring his 33rd wedding anniversary, which occurred yesterday.

Quartet Members
The Elks quartet composed of Ray Kline, Harry Jones, C. A. Mellett, and William Ford sang several numbers during the evening. Short talks were also made by Dr. F. E. Morris and Louis Pitcher, P. E. R.

Past Exalted Ruler Miller gave a short history of Dixon lodge, which was organized May 2, 1902 with 35 charter members, nine of whom still retain their membership. Until 25 years ago a total of 412 had been initiated into the local lodge, and to date the number who have been initiated is 1,651, with 248 members having passed away and at the present time the rolls of the lodge list a membership of 503 members.

The toastmaster called the roll of the 86 Elks who have enjoyed membership in the lodge for 25 years or over, which is as follows:

Honored Members
Theodore W. Fuller, Joseph W. Staples, Tim Sullivan, Dr. F. E. Morris, E. W. Smith, Lee Read, Fred G. Dimick, Amos Bosworth, M. H. Green, D. E. Bowler, Sam Bacharach, Clyde Smith, David H. Hard Work Not Praised
Throughout the Bible, with the exception of only a few contradictory passages, there is no praise for hard work, writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. Even when Genesis was written, work was already regarded as a curse that had befallen man because of his disobedience. Jesus, himself, according to Gospel writers, did little work but lived instead on the gifts of devoted women (Luke 8:1-3). He commanded his disciples to live like beggars, in preference to the material rewards that spring from work well done. And to his followers he advised consideration of the birds and lilies of the field, which neither sow nor reap but are cared for by their Heavenly Father.
